Then, you will definitely love Americans muscle cars. Coined in 1949 due to the demand for a fast car, muscle cars have become one of Americas most loved cars. The 1960s and 1970s saw the creation of some of the best muscle cars of all time. If you are looking for a muscle car, read one as we look into some of the best muscle cars. The Mustangs have undergone a series of transformation from the first to the fifth generation. There is more to this car that will make you want to own it. It was based on an Fbody platform and offered no less than three sixcylinder engines and four V8s. A longer and wider Camaro was then introduced in 1970. The fifth generation Camaro was later introduced in 2010 with a better body and an even better performing engine. Several other challengers were later introduced over the years but the oil crisis crippled the sales of the muscle cars and this lead to the early retirement of this car in 1974. In 2008 the challenger made its way back and this 3rd generation challenger has soldiered on and so far has had a number of stylistic updates. It is very fast and has a 797 horsepower supercharged V8 engine. It featured fourwheel disc brakes, optional side exhaust pipes, a big block, and a 6.5 liter V8. This muscle car has gotten even better with time and the C6 generation that was produced from 20052013 and has better handling and is a muchloved sports car. Get ready to experience this legendary ZR1 supercar with a 755 horsepower and a top speed of 212 MPH. If you want a luxurious muscle car, the dodge viper will be an ideal choice. This car has been in the market for 25 years and it is one of the best classics. It also borrowed a little bit from the Ferrari. This muscle car was an instant hit and GM improved its performance over the years. However, in 1974, its sales went down forcing its production to stop. <http://www.ecyber.com/userfiles/casio-bp-100-user-manual.xml>

Though you will not be able to find a new Pontiac because 2006 was the last year it was produced you can still buy it from its original owners. In 1967, the second generation Plymouth was introduced and it had responded to the need of the market. The model was much more aggressive with a V8 motor and better handling. It had three V8 engines and was on its way to muscle cars success. These cars have both high and low performing options but if you want to feel the real American muscle cars, then the high performing option is your ideal choice. Subscribe to our newsletters. If you're reading If you're reading this article, your pickup of choice is the Dodge Ram. And why shouldn't it be However, they've also firmly established themselves as great daytoday travel vehicles, family pickups, leisure vehicles, and recreation activity trucks. The question isn't what brand of truck you're going to get, the question is what Ram truck is right for your needs Do you know your credit score. It can significantly impact the rate and term of your loan. You may need to find a cosigner or find a dealership that offers lowcredit loans to customers. However, lowcredit loans often come with highinterest rates. Start with the monthly payments on your loan. Are you in a state with a sale's tax. If so, are you accounting for that in your total loan amount Finally, don't forget about regular maintenance costs, fuel, and random repairs. If you're looking for a 2020 Ram truck, you'll obviously be shopping for a brand new vehicle. These are topoftheline, stateofheart trucks that possess the coveted new car smell. If you buy from a private seller, you also don't have much buyerprotection. CPOs are mildly used vehicles that are only a few years old. They've been refurbished to a likenew condition and are given new warranties from the manufacturer or dealership. You'll need to decide what comfort, luxury, and convenience features are important to you before choosing your truck.<http://slavutich-media.ru/userfiles/file/casio-blue-angels-manual.xml>

There are also driver assistance features such as parking sensors and cameras, emergency communication systems, navigation, automatic braking, and more. If you plan on using your pickup for work and require a truck that can bear a lot of weight in the bed, you need to think about hauling capacity. This can help you determine how big of a truck bed you need as well. If you plan on towing trailers, campers, boats, or other vehicles, you need to know what your truck is cable of. Ram trucks have towing capacities ranging from 6,000 to 30,000 pounds. What size of a cab do you need If you have a bigger family or will often be transporting more than yourself and another passenger, you may want to consider getting a crew cab. There's also the mega cab option for those looking for maximum interior space. You have the option of diesel or regular gasoline there are pros and cons to each. However, gas and diesel prices are constantly fluctuating and this isn't always the case. That being said, Ram trucks with diesel engines are typically a few thousand dollars more expensive than their gasoline counterparts. When buying a car of any kind, manufacturer warranties are vital to your peace of mind. Though, as mentioned above, if you're buying a used Ram truck a warranty may not be an option. There's also a 60month or 60,000mile powertrain warranty that covers the major mechanical components. Lastly, you get roadside assistance and a corrosion warranty for 60 months. We recommend researching your vehicle's tradein value in advance to make sure you're getting a fair deal. If so, keep this article handy to make sure you've taken everything into consideration. Remember, buying a vehicle is a big investment that can impact your life for years to come. Be sure to check out some of our other articles before you go. But if you're not a car aficionado, you probably haven't But if you're not a car aficionado, you probably haven't kept up with the latest car trends and features.

That can put a real damper on your car buying experience when it's time to replace your current vehicle. But is the newest model of your current vehicle really the best car on the market for you It's as simple as following our guide. Let's dive into a practical approach to buying a new car. Nowadays, car manufacturers differentiate their catalog by specializing their products for a targeted type of clientele. Knowing what you're looking for. Buying a Jeep would likely be your best bet. You're a family of five and a sedan isn't going to cut it. A larger SUV with plenty of seating and builtin entertainment could be a godsend for those long drives with the whole family. Ask yourself, do you want a manual shift or are you comfortable with an automatic Some vehicles excel in city driving environments and enduring the stopandgo traffic of the daily commute. Opting for a fourcylinder engine can save you hundreds on yearly fuel expenses. Think about perks like remote starters, seat warmers, and television displays. You should have an idea of the type of car you want, such as an SUV or Jeep, as well as a list of musthave features like a backup camera and fourwheel drive. That includes car payments and car insurance. Take a moment to calculate 15% of your monthly income to determine the ideal monthly car payment. A great credit score can limit the impact of a car loan's interest, but you may want to compensate and aim for 12% of your monthly income rather than 15%. While buying has been the traditional choice for decades, the popularity of leasing continues to grow and now accounts for 27% of all newvehicle financing. However, by choosing to purchase a vehicle you also gain equity with every payment and have the freedom to sell the car whenever you'd like. Payments are significantly cheaper, but you must return the car at the end of the lease. It's a good way to drive a car that may be outside of your budget otherwise.

At the end of most leases, you'll have the option to buy the car at a slightly reduced price if you choose. Still, leasing is no doubt the most expensive way to own a car — but the cheapest way to drive one. That means you're finally ready to narrow down your options through the help of a comparison website. At this point, your choice of model mostly comes down to stylistic preferences. Look at online reviews for any car model that catches your eye. You'll get a good sense of the vehicle's reliability and performance. Some car manufacturers are notorious for poor quality control, weak warranty coverage, or undertrained technicians. Any of these factors can throw a certain degree of risk into your purchase, though lemon laws in your state may be able to help. With this, alongside a physical evaluation, you should have a good idea if this car is right for you. Otherwise, head back to the car finder tool to discover some alternatives. You just need to put in a bit of effort to find it. Then search our website for more auto and motor coverage. However, as time passes these cars are fading from memory. This is a sad chain of events that we're going to attempt to undo right here. Before we get into the three AMC cars that will make you say, "oh yeah, I remember that car" let's talk about the American Motors Corporation. In 1954 an epic coming together of Hudson, Nash and Kelvinator formed the American Motors Corporation. Nash had been building cars since 1916 and Hudson had large manufacturing facilities located in North America. The two struggling companies banded together with plans to make a run at the big three car makers. The company hit the ground running by building small, midsize and fullsize automobiles. By 1965, with several models on the top 10 bestsellers list, the debtfree company seemed poised to give Chevy and Ford a run for its money.

Although this didn't turn out to be true, the company produced some AMC cars worth remembering in the 60s and early 70s. The company faced major challenges with an increase in government intervention in the form of mandatory automotive regulations. Then the gas crunch crashed onto the shores of the United States in the early 1970s. With AMC cars producing some of the worst gas mileage numbers, the uphill battle to remain competitive turned into a slippery slope. Nevertheless, the American motors Corporation didn't give up without a fight. They launched the Eagle series of automobiles featuring some unique fourwheeldrive cars. Unfortunately, in the mid80s the debt ridden company accepted an offer from the Chrysler Corporation for a complete buyout. The little Nash Rambler had been around for a decade, but the AMC version launched in 1958 with a new look. They built the car for more than 10 years and it went through three different redesigns. The company touted the two door sedan as an economical workhorse built for hardworking Americans. Although these AMC cars remained unchanged under the hood from the previous years, the exterior received a heavy restyling. They moved this workhorse into the fun category in 1961 when they offered a convertible version. Sidebar A sharp looking 1962 Rambler American convertible wearing fire engine red paint starred in the hit sitcom series The Third Rock from the Sun. Thanks to abundant fuel and the need for speed, automotive consumers started moving away from economy cars. In 1966 the American Motors Corporation responded with the launch of a 225 HP V8 powered Rambler in an attempt to turn the grocery getter into a muscle car. By 1970, with slumping sales, they decided to move the platform back to its roots of the family car and renamed it the Hornet. AMC through big money at the car and even formed a race team run by Penske. Mark Donahue piloted a Javelin to victory in several Trans Am series races.

However, competing with the Chevrolet Camaro and the Ford Mustang would prove to be more than challenging. The acronym stood for American Motors Experimental. This car packed the allnew 6.4 liter 390 cubic inch big block engine. In its original version it produced about 320 HP. However, the factory started installing high performance exhaust manifolds, an aggressive camshaft and a high flow performance intake manifold. With horsepower reported in the 350 range these cars fell just short of taking down the Chevy Camaro, Ford Mustang and the Dodge Challenger. In 1970 the company wanted to think outside of the box by making a car that looked like a box. Its overall look, with a long front end and a boxy rear end received mixed reviews. What many don't realize is the car remains only a few inches longer than the Volkswagen Beetle. In fact, they built the car with the intention to take a bite out of the Volkswagen Beetle's market share. However, sales figures disappointed the AMC executives. Despite the higher price tag sales increased to over 122,000 units that year. In 1974 American Motors struggled with the design and installation of catalytic converters to meet tightening government emission requirements. Nevertheless, in 1974 and 1975 the company posted its best sales figures with around 175,000 cars sold in each of these years. They gave up on the Gremlin in 1978, yet it remains one of the classic AMC cars worth remembering. In addition to all those minutes spent on the road, Wouldn't it be great if there were some way to help you out with things like finding parking, being fuel efficient, or even sneaking around traffic These apps can make the dreaded car hunt seem like a breeze! This car app boasts as being the biggest used car search engine. It also has been featured on the likes of Forbes, Consumer Reports, USA Today, and many more. Cars are sorted by best deals and price so you know you are getting your money's worth.

They also have every dealership scored and rated so you have the peace of mind knowing you are getting the car you are paying for. They have a matchmaker experience where you can get suggestions about which car to buy based on questions about yourself. They even can help you calculate your car loan payment as well! Now comes the horror of trying to find parking. Luckily with these apps, finding parking is a snap! Some big cities include New York City, Boston, and Los Angeles. With features such as comparing spots and pricing, you'll be sure to get the parking spot you need, without the hassle. You can even prepay and reserve your parking space as well. Spreading to 8,000 cities across the world, this app is still growing daily. So, if the app doesn't reach your city, give them a message and they'll help get you the coverage you need. These apps can help with that. This car performance app lets you record services and repairs, keeping track of multiple cars at once. It also works for motorcycles as well! Forget when to rotate or change tires. If bought at a myCARFAX shop, the app will automatically track the wellbeing of the tires. Here are some apps to help you find the cheapest gas for you. Use their app to filter through stations and find ones with specific brands, prices, and even other roadtripping needs like car washes and restrooms. Drivvo is the car assistant for you. It helps you keep track of your gas expenses so you don't have to worry about going over your budget. It is the ultimate financial assistant for your car needs. Waze will instantly reroute to help you get to where you need to be and fast. Thanks to continued mobile app development, Waze is constantly bettering itself for its users. While it is mostly known as a navigational system, Google Maps also excels at traffic navigation. It also has an offline function, which is great when data is sparse.

From trying to dodge traffic to get to work on time, to car maintenance, to buying expensive gas, there's a lot to think about when it comes to owning and driving a car.
