4.0 out of 5 stars It replaces the one from my 2000 Coachmen Mirada 30qb. This part is obsolete, and will only get harder to find new. I called Dometic because all I really needed was the control for the thermostat. They suggested I take it in to be serviced. Then I found this on Amazon. I called Tri State Surplus to verify the part number. Only difference is that this one is Polar White. Mine was Beige. Even though it is the same part. In addition, the power cord was just barely long enough to reach the ground screw. So, it fit, but something is different. Although it came with a hardware package. It did not include all the screws I needed to install it. Luckily I had the hardware from the old unit. Missing about half of the hardware needed. Other than that looks nice and works like original. It replaced my broken switches and I now have a nice clean white cover inside my camper.
It was very easy to install. The directions were very clear. Scam artists.
